Responsive Reading : #77 Father’s Day

God of our fathers and Creator of us all, we treasure our Christian fathers who are guardians of your creation. They have endeavored to be models of faith, freedom, and strength for our families.

God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, we thank you for our fathers and for the care they have given your creation.

As the Father of Jesus, you, God, are the model of perfect love and nurture. We will ever look to you for guidance and direction. We celebrate Joseph, Jesus’ earthly father, who assumed unexpected responsibilities with grace and dedication.

Abba Father, Great Teacher, instruct our fathers in the ways of perfect love.

We mourn the many fathers lost in the Middle Passage, and those who were ripped away from their families during slavery. We vow to continue the process of reconciling black families, binding them together in love.

O Great Physician, teach us how to mend the family ties that have been severed.

We remember the weathered lands and gentle spirits of our own fathers. With proud yet humble hearts, they were cast down but not destroyed.

In the name of the fathers who have loved and raised us, we give thanks.

Our fathers have been warrior kings, leaders of nations, and pillars of faith in church and society.

Strengthen their minds, bodies, and spirits so that they may faithfully serve you. Help today’s fathers, O God, to become wiser managers of their households.

Black fathers have distinguished themselves in every profession, at home and abroad. They have taught us strength in adversity and have led us in work and at play, in sports, in fishing, in building and trades.

“Faith of our fathers, living still in spite of dungeon, fire and sword. Faith of our fathers, holy faith. We will be true to you till death!”
